Asset Name clearance

STEP 1 - Naming qualification

Before beginning any name generation work, please review the criteria below then consult with your local and/or Global Brand team.

Is asset (in order of importance)...

- used externally?
- likely to be perceived by a client as a differentiator?
- likely to be repeatable across multiple clients?
- expected to elevate and/or differentiate the Deloitte brand?
- receiving significant marketing support/resources before and after launch?
- in possession of a 1-3 year+ business plan?
- offering different from any existing Deloitte asset's name (check Master Asset Inventory, Wordmark/custom name registry and US Consulting Master Asset Inventory¹) or direct competitor (Do a web search for any similar brand names)
- is the asset qualified to use one of the global umbrella brands alongside the descriptive name?
- qualified to be associated with existing alliances?
- likely to be purchased as a standalone or incur direct license revenue?
- appealing to audiences not intrinsic to Deloitte's core offering?

Asset Name clearance

If your local and/or Global Brand team confirm that your asset qualifies for a name, please use the below criteria to help frame the name generation process. An asset's proposed name must meet all criteria to be approved for use.

STEP 2 - Naming standards

Is asset's proposed name...

1. Is the name descriptive (e.g., does it clearly reflect what your asset does, even without additional context)?
2. No more than two to three words?
3. Easy to remember and pronounce by non-native English speakers?
4. Naturally lend itself to digital usage? (URL, SEO, social)?
5. Not being used by any other area of Deloitte (check Master Asset Inventory, Wordmark/custom name registry and US Consulting Master Asset Inventory1) or direct competitor ? (Do a web search for any similar brand names)

Is name free of:

1. Complex and/or abstract acronyms that are not relevant to what the asset does?
2. Deloitte as a reference (prefix or suffix) (e.g., Deloitte X or X Deloitte)
3. Initial cap of "D" or "D." (D-dot) as a prefix or suffix
4. Abstract names or references?
5. Distorted or inverted letters or symbols?
6. Third party brand naming conventions? (e.g. Apple's "iPhone")?
7. Homophones? (e.g., sell/cell)
8. Year (e.g. 2020)
9. The phrases "GenAI", "AI", or "Agentic"?

STEP 3

Going forward all products/platforms and assets will fall under five umbrella brands. Any new names will adopt a straightforward, descriptive naming convention to ensure they are telegraphic and signal clearly to clients, the market and internal teams exactly what they do.

Naming Products and Platforms

Select the functional industry/category you operate in e.g.

State clearly what your tool does e.g.

Merge these two words e.g.

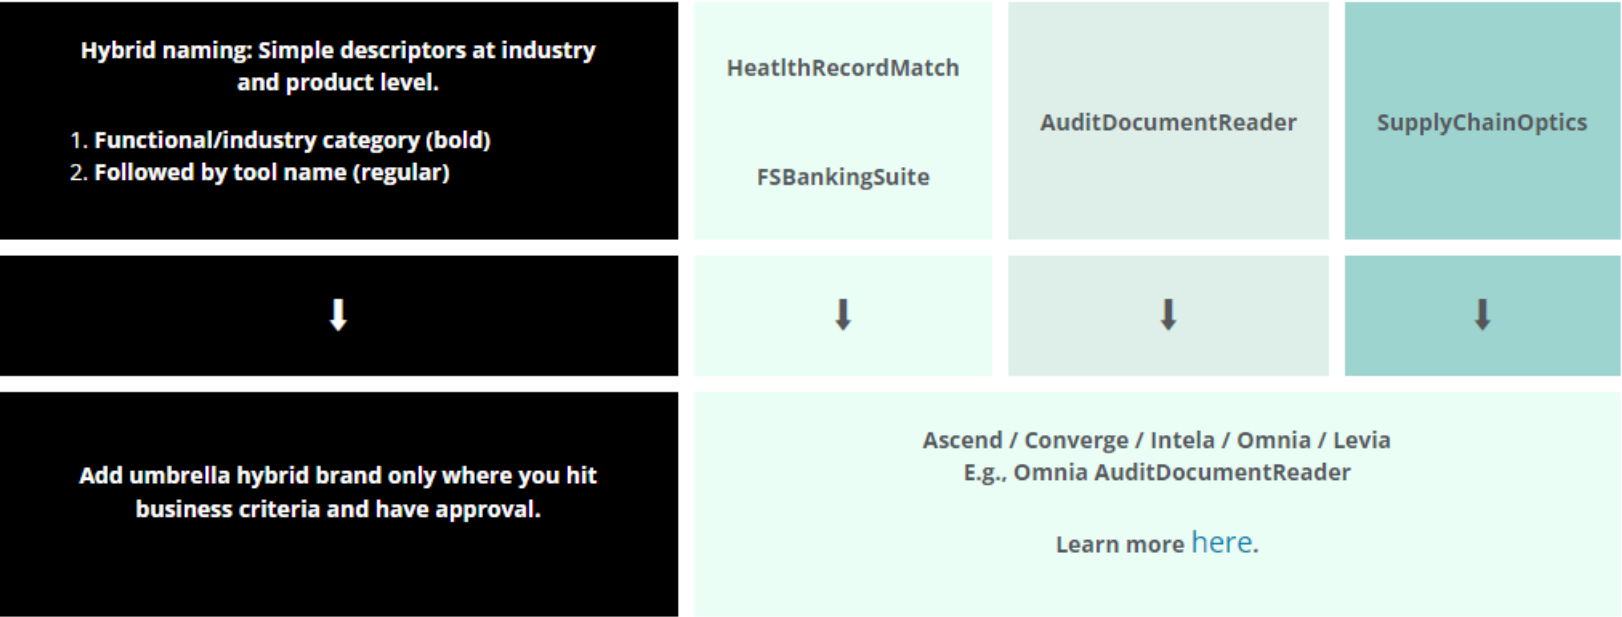

Health Record Match,
FS Banking Suite,
Supply Chain Optics

Asset Name clearance

The structure is as follows:

- 1. Select the functional industry/category you operate in e.g., Health, FS, Supply Chain
- 2. State clearly what your tool does e.g., Record Match, Banking Suite, Optics
- 3. Merge these two words e.g., Health Record Match, FS Banking Suite, Supply Chain Optics

Local Legal check

Post Brand approval, Brand team submits asset name for legal check.

Approval from global businesses marketing team

Submit approved asset name to legal team for registry/trademark.

Global Brand team approval + Consult with each local brand team where name is intended for use to ensure cultural/language relevancy.

UI clearance

STEP 1

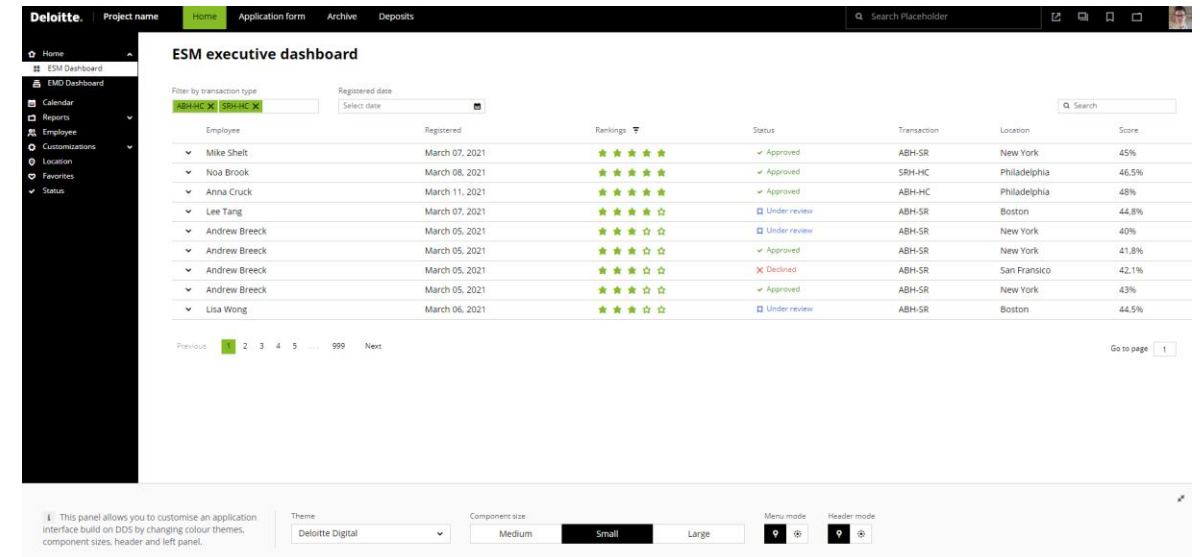

Follow Global Digital design system guidelines
digital design system

The goal of digital design system guidelines is to build a unified and systematic language that's aligned to Deloitte's signature brand identity.

For information on UI Kit, Figma, HTML code snippets, Accessibility, Global support refer below link

UI clearance

STEP 2

In case of Digital design system guidelines not followed due to technical limitations, ensure following standards are maintained in the application UI.

LOGO usage and placement

Application header - Logo and asset name placement
Refer Digital design system guidelines

Favicon as a profile logo

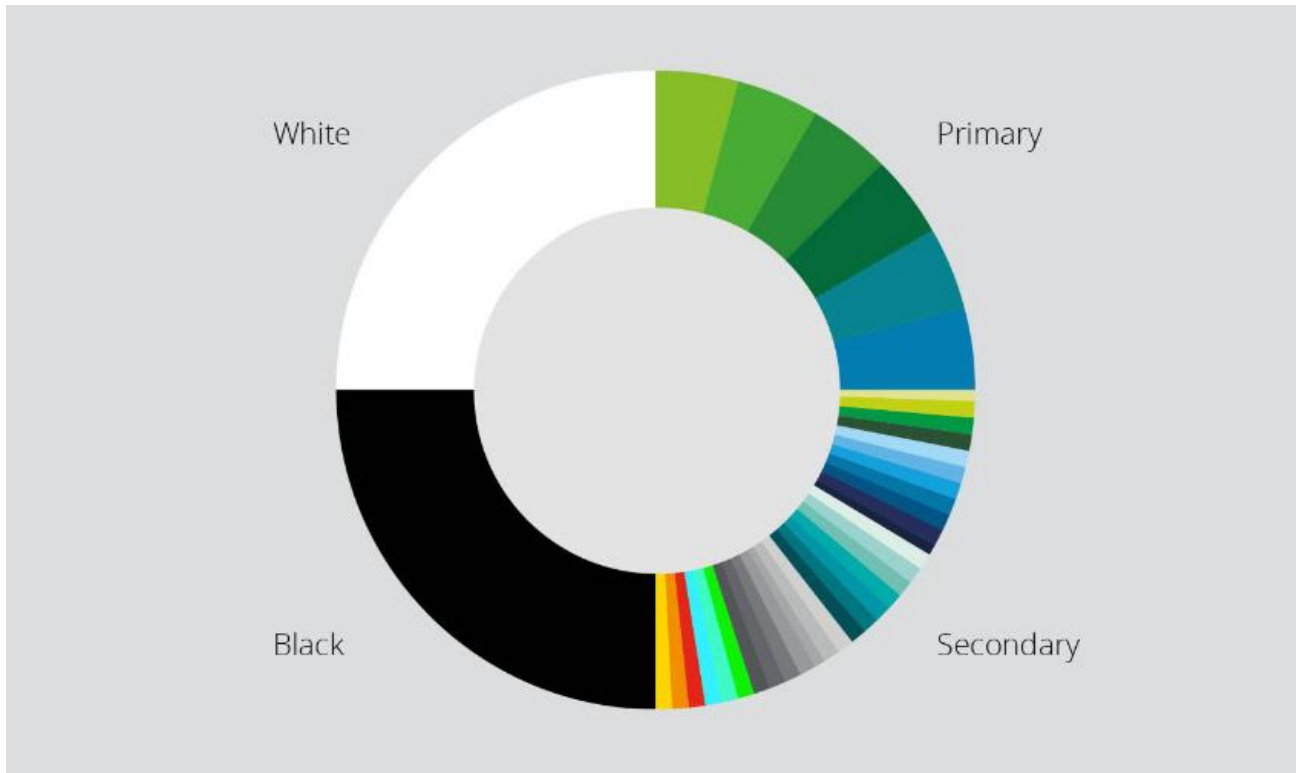

- Usage of the favicon is limited to small scale digital applications only, where a full Deloitte logo wouldn't be appropriate due to sizing limitations
- A full Deloitte logo may also appear elsewhere in the application, for example in the header image of a social media page whilst the favicon appears as the profile/avatar
